Fair Deadlines

Potential exhibitors at Santa Cruz County Fair, to be held September 16 through 20, have earned a time bonus. Deadline for exhibitor entries for the 1970 fair has been extended to 5 p.m., August 24. All entries must be postmarked on that date, or be delivered to the administration building on the fairgrounds above Watsonville by 5 p.m., except entries for the horse show and the special applie pie baking contest. Deadline for the latter two events is 5 p.m., August 31.

Farm advisor John Melendy issued a reminder to potential 4-H and FFA exhibitors this week. He says the state rule which requires market lambs carry no more than one inch of stretched fleece will be "strictly inforced."

What Causes Crime

Despite the years of extensive and intensive study and research in many countries, the vital factors causing crime still escape unequivocal, positive identification. For nearly every factor known to be associated with delinquency, from broken homes and mental deficiency to overcrowding, delinquent subcultures, child neglect and poverty, it is still possible to show at least as many young people subjected to such conditions who do not commit crime.

This study was made by the United Nations Secretariat. It is explicit when it explains that urbanization, industrialization and excessive population have bad effects. "However...most of these influences have provoked endeavor and greatness as well as delinquency. It depends on the person."

More Blacks Murdered

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Recent reports reveal that a much higher proportion of blacks than whites are victims of crime. The Justice Department statistics reveal that while blacks comprise about 10 percent of the population, they constituted 54 percent of all homicide victims in 1967. Most of these victims were males between 15 and 44; few were women, children or elderly people.

Three Cities Receive AAA Awards

The cities of Carmel, Monterey and Pacific Grove, have received American Automobile Association awards for their programs and overall effort in the 1970 pedestrian safety inventory program. The program is a measure of effectiveness of effort directed toward pedestrian safety.

Carmel's Mayor Barney Laiolo and Police Chief Clyde Klaumann received a 'Special Citation for Casualty Record' award, presented by Lyle K. Engeldinger of the California State Automobile Association which sponsors the program in the 45 counties of northern and central California and the state of Nevada.

Mayor Al Madden and Police Chief Harold Benadom accepted the Pedetestrian Safety Citation award for Monterey for its achievement of zero pedestrian casualties for 1969. In presenting this award, Engeldinger noted that this is the sixth consecutive year that Monterey has maintained a zero pedestrian casualty record.

Pacific Grove's Mayor Earl Grafton and Police Captain Eldred Humiston were on hand to receive Pacific Grove's 'Pedestrian Safety Citation' award for zero pedestrian casualties during 1969.

During the presentation of all three awards, Engeldinger attributed these excellent records to the fine work of each of the cities' staff, emphasizing the work of local law enforcement which has the critical day to day responsibility for carrying out the traffic safety programs.

He further emphasized that the real key to pedestrian safety is the implementation of meaningful safety programs, by such safety conscientious cities as Carmel, Monterey and Pacific Grove.

These cities competing with other cities of comparable population took part in national contest to earn the awards.

NEW HOME - Butts Pontiac-Cadillac will open the doors to their beautiful showrooms located in the new Seaside, Monterey Peninsula Auto Center on Monday August 31. The facility on 5 acres includes the Service department, new car sales showroom, used car lot, body shop and executive offices.

Reception For O'Brien

There will be a public reception for Candidate for Attorney General, Charles O'Brien in Seaside on Friday evening August 28 from 5 pm to 7 pm.

The reception free to the public will be held at Daves Wintergarden Restaurant located on Fremont and Elm. Refreshments will be served.

After the Seaside event O'Brien is scheduled to appear at another reception in his honot at Pebble Beach.

Hosts for the reception being held at the Del Monte Lodge are Peninsula attornys Fred Farr, and Peter Ferrants and Aime Michaud, President of Del Monte Properties. Every one is invited to the Seaside affair.

Ord Hospital Is Accredited

The Special Treatment Facility at the U.S. Army Hospital, Ft. Ord, received notification July 27 that it has been approved for accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals for a period of two years.

This accreditation means that the facility has met the high standards of patient care required by the Joint Commission which is composed of the American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

The standards set up by the Commission are those that medical and hospital authorities consider necessary to insure high quality medical care. They call for application of certain basic principles of organization and administration for efficient patient care and require that the hospital meet certain standards in its physical facilities. Acreditation is also a prerequisite for conducting approved intern and residency training programs.

The specialized Treatment Facility is currently participating in several advanced professional educational programs.

The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals is an independent organization which has no connection with the Department of Defense. The Surgeon General of the Army has emphasized, however, that U.S. Army medical facilities will make every effort to meet the standards of the Joint Commission.

Seniors Can Be Reimbursed

Senior citizens who have not filed for Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance may be missing the opportunity to be reimbursed for a substantial portion of their property taxes.

Martin Huff, Executive officer of the Franchise Tax Board, the department responsible for the administration of the program, noted that during the month of July a total of 31,000 refunds were made, disbursing $4,374,000. The average refund amounted to $141, Huff said.

To be eligible for Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, claimants must be over 65 years of age as of January 1, 1970; must own and occupy their own home; must have paid the property taxes on the home; and must have a total household income of less than $3,350.

Qualified individuals can obtain claim forms from any office of the Franchise Tax Board or by writing to Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, POB 1588, Sacramento CA 95807.

Supplies Returned From Southeast Asia

The continuing reduction of the scale of U.S. operations in Southeast Asia was evidenced recently by the return of the first shipload of surplus supplies and equipment from the Far East.

"Project Home Run" is another phase in the Nixon Administration's Vietnamization of the conflict in Southeast Asia. As a result of the President's reduction of U.S. Forces in South Vietnam, more than 125,000 men have come home -- and now equipment and supplies that can economically be returned for use in this country also are being brought back.

The shipment of goods, ranging from diesel engines and truck tires to medical refrigerators and surgeons' disposable gloves, is the first massive shipment of its kind. The arrival was marked with a dockside ceremony at the Military Ocean Terminal adjacent to the Oakland Army Base.

Original planning on Project Home Run was undertaken by Robert L. Kunzig, head of General Services Administration, during a trip to Southeast Asia earlier this year. It was jointly developed by GSA, the Department of Defense, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Veterans Administration to avoid the massive waste of goods and material that occurred after World Wars I and II.

Officials joining administrator Kunzig at dockside included Dr. Theodore C. Marrs, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense (Reserve Affairs); James E. Farmer, Assistant Secretary of DHEW for administration; Dr. Benjamin B. Wells, Deputy Chief Medical Director of the Veterans Administration; and U.S. Representative William S. Mailliard of California's Sixth Congressional District.

More than 391,000 cubic feet of cargo, valued at approximately $6.5 million, was aboard the vessel.

"As provided by law," Kunzig said, "federal agencies have first choice of the property, followed by schools, colleges, hospitals and civil defense agencies. The use of military supplies for civilian needs is a part of Nixon's drive to reduce Federal expenditures.

After the supplies earmarked for use in the San Francisco area are unloaded, the S.S. American Racer will head for Rough and Ready Island near Stockton. The island was chosen by GSA as the port because it has warehouse space at the dock which is available to the Federal Government and railroad and truck loading facilities near the dock.

The goods will be temporarily stored in a warehouse on Rough and Ready Island. About half of the supplies will be donated by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to the states, which, in turn, will distribute them to schools, hospitals and other organizations eligible under the law.

The remainder will go to the Federal agencies.

New Division To Promote Trade Growth

The Bank of America has established a new unit to promote further growth of California's international trade.

The unit, to be known as International Business Development California Market, will be headed by Vice President George Curran, formerly in charge of the bank's Far East division.

In announcing the new activity, C.M. van Vlierden, executive vice president for international banking, said it will assist all California branches of the bank in handling international services.

It will provide firms in California accelerated access to international banking services and consultation anywhere in the bank's worldwide system.

"The move is intended to bring local companies right into the foreign trade picture, regardless of their size, location or experience in international business," Mr. van Vlierden commented, adding:

"In a state that has a so-called gross national product which ranks seventh among

New Students Must Be Registered

All students new to the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District this fall, kindergarten through senior high school grade 12, in the communities of Monterey, Del Rey Oaks, Seaside, San City, Fort Ord, and Marina, should be registered by September 2, although late registrants will be accepted.

This applies only to three kinds of students: youngsters entering kindergarten or first grade, attending public school for the first time; students who have moved to the district from some other area and students within the district who have changed place of residence since school closed last June. All other students automatically were registered for promotion or transfer last spring.

Registration for new students who will enter schools on-post at Fort Ord and the La Mesa School in Monterey, which serves many children of the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School and who live at La Mesa Village Naval housing area, began Wednesday, August 12.

Registration for new students for all other schools in the district began Monday, August 17.

New students may register at the nearest school for the grade to be attended, or will be referred to the proper school from there. Most elementary schools include kindergarten and grades one through six. Junior high schools cover grades seven, eight, and nine (except Los Arboles Junior High School in Marina which sends ninth graders to Fitch Junior High School at Fort Ord). Senior high schools includes grades ten, eleven, and twelve. Registration hours for elementary and junior high schools are 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and 1:00 to 3:30 p.m., daily, Monday-Friday through September 2. The counseling offices at the two senior high schools are open for registration from 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Health requirement for all new students include proof of immunization from polio and measles (rubeola).

In addition California laws require that to enter kindergarten a child must be five years of age on or before December 2, 1970, and to enter first grade must be six years of age on or before December 2, 1970. A birth certificate, baptismal record, insurance paper, or other document is required for proof of birthdate.

The school district provides transportation and cafeteria services which begin the first day of school September 3. Question about these services may be asked at time of registration.

Deadlines For Grants Are Near

Medical scientists who work or reside in Monterey, Santa Cruz or San Benito counties are notified of an approaching deadline.

November 1, 1970 is the date for researchers to submit applications for grant-in-aid to be awarded by the American Heart Association in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1971. The deadline for applications for established investigatorships, foreign visiting scientists and British-American fellowships is September 15.

Ernest G. Hannowell, M.D. of Salinas, Chairman of the Research Allocations Committee of the Central Mission Trails Heart Association said that scientists in Monterey, Santa Cruz or San Benito counties who wish assistance in meeting national requirements should get in touch with the association's regional office, 541-A South Main Street, Salinas 93901, or write direct to the American Heart Association, 44E. 23rd Street, New York 10010. In either case, address the Research Department.

Grants-in-aid are made to support and expand the research activities broadly related to cardiovascular fuction and disease, or to related fundamental problems. Support is available for all basic disciplines as well as for clinical investigations.

Alioto to Support Unruh

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto joined the leadership of the Jess Unruh for Governor campaign today as a member of the Northern California executive committee for Unruh.

Alioto's announcement follows by three days a news conference in which former Governor Edmund G. "Pat" Brown also announced unqualified backing of Jess Unruh for Governor.

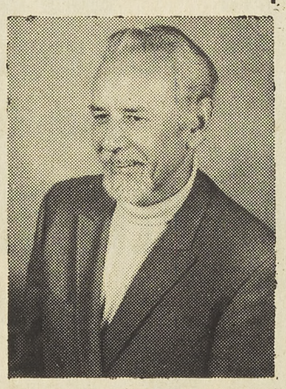
Assisting Alioto in organizing the Northern California executive committee is builder Walter Shorenstein. Shorenstein was 1968 national finance chairman of Hubert Humphrey's presidential cmapaign and Humphrey's California finance chairman.

Alioto and Shorenstein joined other prominent Northern Californians today in calling on Democrats to unite behind Unruh. Others organizing the Northern California executive committee for Jess Unruh include: AFL-CIO executive secretary-treasurer John Henning, clothing manufacturer Adolph Schuman, cable television executive Claude Cody and construction contractor Jack Brooks.

Publisher's Report

Seaside Ripples

A.E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher



A.E. Barragan

I would be remiss if I didn't report in my column the historic events that took place during the Bi-Centennial Afro-American week even though you will read of it in other columns in the paper. My meeting with our distinguished African visitor, His Excellency, John J. Akar, Ambassador to the U. S. from Sierra Leone, was most thrilling. I have met many celebrities in my lifetime of covering many important events, but I have never met one so charming as our guest from Africa.

What Akar had to say was even greater than his august presence. "People need each other. The white needs the black and the black needs the white." His most beautiful statement was when he said, "God in his inscrutable wisdom has taken the white of Europe, the black of Africa, the brown of the Middle East, the Yellow of Asia, and the Red of the American Indians to weave into a beautiful and sacred tapestry called Humanity. Let us not soil it with our prejudices. "The lines remind me of passages from my favorite Prophet, Kahlil Gibran.

By the way, the Ambassador is half Lebanese and comes by his prose naturally. This led mayor Lou Haddad to remark that he and the ambassador were distant cousins since Haddad is Lebanese. Only goes to show in those few remarks how close we all are to being brothers under the skin.

I got a letter from someone yesterday that

LESSIE LOOKED so proud when she presented Assemblyman Willie Brown with one of her beauty products that we just had to show her off to you all. Lessie Caraway has lived here in Seaside since 1951. She started her beauty shop in 1953 and has raised six children in the meantime. Charlie, the oldest is 30, Bill and Evie the twins are 29, Arthur is 28, Ida is 27 and Anna Jeadon is 3, and cute as her mother. Lessie also boasts of 14 grandchildren. While running a successful beauty supply house which markets all five of the products that Lessie herself developed and also running her very successful beauty shop, Lessie finds time to participate in politics and is a member of Seaside's Parks and Recreation Commission. The Les Grand Coeurs a local Civic Organization, sponsored a no-host cocktail reception in honor of His Excellency, Dr. John J. Akar, Ambassador from Sierra Leone, Sunday, August 16 at the Holiday Inn in Monterey.

Approximately 60 guest greeted Dr. Akar during an informal reception planned in celebration of Old Monterey Bicentennial Year, Afro-American Week.

ORD BLUES REVUE

The entertainment section of Special Services presented an exciting "Blues Revue" at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, August 16 at the Fort Ord football stadium. The show featured an assemblage of authentic blues talent unsurpassed among living artists of our time.

Johnny Otis, ("So Fine," "Willie and the Hand Jive"), Kansas City's Big Joe Turner ("Shake, Rattle, and Roll"), the legendary "T'- Bone" Walker, Eddie "Cleanhead" Vinson and many more were featured.

The Revue, in the vanguard of the groups creating the fantastic resurgence of rhythm and blues in American and European music today, has recently appeared at the Ash Grove and Shelly Mannes' Mannehole in Los Angeles.

They came to Fort Ord directly from an engagement at Basin Street West in San Francisco and are scheduled to appear at the upcoming Monterey Jazz Festival.

Their music is the kind of free, joyous sounds that won the acclaim of such noted music critics as Leonard Feather and audiences across the country.
ences across the country. It's the kind of rhythm and blues that gets hold of you and won't let go.

A special performance was presented for basic trainees, earlier in the day. Admission was free to all military personnel, their dependents and guests and Department of the Army civilians.

JUNIOR LEAGUE LUNCHEON

Dr. Eva Schindler-Rainman, nationally recognized consultant on community organization, will be the guest speaker at the Mark Thomas Inn, Wednesday, September 16, at a conference the Junior League of the Monterey Peninsula, Inc. is providing for the public. The title of her talk will be "Translate Ideas and Ideals into Action". The conference will be of value for those interested in volunteer service to the community. The time is from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. The public is invited free. There will be a $3.50 charge for the luncheon. Tickets can be obtained from Mrs. Rolf Johnsen, 375-1866. Reservation deadline is September 10th.

The guest speaker, a dynamic woman whose capacity for revitalizing community organizations through her special training workshops, is acclaimed nationwide. She will speak and work with guests in small groups. Her philosophy is based on the belief that "everyone has creative potential." The challenge is to help people discover and develop this potential and utilize it constructively. Her training emphasizes development of better understanding between people. Dr. Rainman will speak at the opening of the morning session, followed by workshop groups. Luncheon is scheduled for 12:00 noon, where Dr. Rainman will summarize the finding from the group discussion.

Among the groups who have benefited from Dr. Rainman's consultant work are the American Cancer Society, National Red Cross, the City of Los Angeles, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Pasadena College, National Urban League, UCLA, USC, and the office of Economic Opportunity,

Gabor Szabo To Play at Festival

Gabor Szabo and his new Sextet have been signed to appear at the Monterey Jazz Festival September 18,19,20.

The Sextet, Szabo on guitar, Wolfgang Melz on Fender Bass John Dentz on drums, Felix Falcon on conga drums, Lynn Blessing on vibes, and Sandra Grouch on tambourine, will perform during the Sunday evening, September 20 concert of the three-day, five concert jazz classic.

Other artists set to date for the Sunday evening concert are the Buddy Rich Band and new vocalist Leon Thomas.

Szabo will also appear in a solo performance with the Oakland Youth Chamber Orchestra during the Sunday afternoon concert.

Hungarian-born Szabo says he first decided to play guitar when he saw a Roy Rogers movie at the age of thirteen. He was greatly influenced by American jazz programs broadcast over Voice of America.

A former Freedom Fighter, Szabo escaped from Hungary in 1956 and came to the United States with his only possession --his guitar. He studied at the Berkley School of Music and has played with Chico Hamilton, Gary McFarland and Charles Lloyd. His music is a blend of the romantic gypsy tones of his native Hungary, American jazz and the music of Brazil and India.

Jazz critic Leonard Feather has said of Szabo: "Paramount among his many skills is the ability to build and sustain a mood of almost literal enchantment . . . He has a burning intensity that is expressed at times through the use of strange, sitar-like effects, and other times through the use of calculated monotony."

start saving for those Christmas gifts today

Look at the things you've gotten with Blue Chip Stamps. They add up doubly fast at Mayfair.

Take a look around you. That sparkling electric coffee maker in your kitchen. The new wall clock . . . the handsome luggage. Think about all of those worthwhile things you've gotten with Blue Chip Stamps. At Mayfair your stamp books fill up faster with the double stamp coupons each week. Stamps, you see, don't cost very much. No matter what others would have you believe. Blue Chip Stamps cost us about 15¢ on a $10 sale. In other words, the price of a jar of mayonnaise doesn't change a penny with or without stamps. When a market asks you to save on your own for those things you need around the house a funny thing begins to happen. The small change doesn't add up like the ol' stamp books used to. When the chips are down, just remember, Mayfair is still chipping in . . . with double Blue Chip Stamps. It pays to save them.

was six pages single-spaced long. I haven't bothered to read it carefully yet, but one line intrigued me. The man said, "I can't tell from the photograph over your column whether you are black or white; however from your writing I would surmise that if you are black you also have some Caucasian blood too. If you do then that explains why your are so able to see both sides of the race issue." I don't think that you have to see both sides of the "race issue". I don't think that there are two sides. There is only one issue and that is what Akar said in his beautiful quote about that "sacred tapestry called Humanity". And that one issue can even be boiled down to one word, "Economic". Even though money may not buy happiness and equality if sure goes a long way towards making if easier to live unhappily and unequal.

Many other events of the week need reporting and the most significant of those is the defeat in Sacramento of Governor Reagan's Tax Reform bill. Ronnie just couldn't scrape up the needed two-thirds majority to impose his monstrous tax bill on the people of California. I needn't go into the ramifications of the measure other than to say that it did one thing to make it a bad law. That was that it would have raised the sale tax from five cents on the dollar to six. Whether you stop to figure it or not that is a 20 percent increase in your sales tax. Even though Ronnie tried to sell it on the basis that it helped the small taxpayer, it also helped the big taxpayer even more and what good to save a few dollars on your home taxes only to have them taken away by a 20 percent raise in your sales tax. Sorry Governor, we're glad you lost.

Our own City Council provided us with another one of is melodramas again this week. Mayor Haddad and Adeline DiLorenzo got into it again and wound up with the mayor throwing Adeline out. In the long run Adeline won though. She finally got approval of her project to build some dwellings that she has been fighting the planning commission on for seven years.

The Mayor won a round, too, on his power to make appointments. His attorney for the city, Saul Wiengarten, gave him a ruling which reinforced the mayor's right to make appointments to boards and commissions. I'm going to check on that ruling. The source of legal opinion was given as the League of California Cities. What is thematter with getting a ruling from the State's highest attorney, the Attorney General. Maybe Wiengarten did get a ruling from him, too, but that isn't what was reported. I'm not an attorney but I would like to find out why that, since the mayor in this case is also a member of the governing body, the council, it might make a difference than if he held an independent elective office as mayor. Let us look a little farther, Saul. It just doesn't make sense that if four out of five members of a legislative body of which one is the mayor that the same law would apply as if he was a separate elected officer.

At this time I am not taking any sides on the individuals that are being discussed in the appointments, but rather at the procedures that are being followed. Under the present Wiengarten ruling you could have a stalemate forever with no appointments ever being approved. No, that can't be the right way. There has to be a better answer. Let's find it fellows so that the city can go ahead with its important work.

Camps Are Almost Full

This word comes from William Penn Mott, Jr. Director of the State Parks and Recreation Department. He reports that most state park campgrounds along the entire coas from Fort Bragg south are already filled by advance reservation, as are the Southern California inlan parks and those in the Sierra area around Lake Tahoe.

'If you can manage it,' Mott suggested, 'head north and inland. Generally valley parks and northern redwood parks get the least pressure. As a rule of thumb, the farther away you can get from the state's major population centers, the better chance you will have to find a state park campsite.'

Mott had another suggestion for prospective campers. 'Try to get an early start. On major holiday weekends, even the least used parks will often fill, and if you arrive too late, you may miss out.'

If you are planning on staying at a state park campground over the coming Labor Day weekend and you don't have a reservation, you might be in for a disappointment.

Letter to Editor

Editor:

I hope Miss Mann checked up on her facts before saying that the SDS had marched in the July 4th parade because it is my impression that of the five anti-war groups (Movement for a Democratic Military, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, M.P.C. Committee for Peace, Vets for Peace and the Peace and Freedom Party) that did march, SDS was not one of them.

It is her right to say "I'd rather be dead than red", but to come out and say that one of the marching groups was a part of SDS and in fact labled as a communist menace by the House of Un-American Activities committee, was uncalled for since I believe SDS did not march.

Does she realize what this piece of information can do to the anti-war groups now waiting to be tried in court? This could stir up negative feelings toward these groups, and they could never receive a fair trial. This may be a bit exaggerated but many retired and active-duty military families of our community read your newspaper, and we know how many mulutary people feel about "commies" (which of course, the anti-war groups are not).

Please Miss Mann consider the consequences before saying something as fact, which may not be true at all.

Sincerely yours,
Joyce Chiyomi Nakamura

Makes Dean's Honor Roll

Louis Wijsen of Seaside was named on the dean's list at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies for the spring semester 1970, according to Samson B. Knoll, Dean of the Faculty.

Sixteen students are on the list which consists of those who have made a straight "A" record for the term.

Grooving Around The Peninsula

with Betty Mann

Happenings las week were: Afro-American bicentennial week, wich was indeed a success even though it was rumered that a certain group of older established residents from Seaside were going to parade, and picket the week's festivities because certain ones of them felt that since they had lived in Seaside for years, they should have had a hand in this shinding. Maybe they were right?

and it is indeed a person's choise to stay home and boycott an affair; the public never seems to miss these people anyway, because no one seems to notice who is present or absent. So in all, I was happy to hear from local sources that a change of mind, by these individuals had prevailed. Can't you imagine the other ethnic groups, ridiculing and criticizing the blacks for ever being together, even with their own people.

By the way it has been questioned why Mr. Joe Walton was appointed chairman of Afro-American Week; well it seems that person, or persons down at the Bicentennial Headquarters selected a person whom they knew personally, and whom they felt would be a personal asset to the Black community in organizing something as great as this. Joe was selected by these people at Bicentennial Headquarters by this logic.

Here are a few on-the-scene highlights from the Afro - Bicentennial festivities: The Ambassador from Sierra Leone,-(wowee) what a man! (sigh)-, an exciting, handsome, charming, debonair, (goodwill) ambassador, not only shoes and personal attire, smile), but he captured lots of male admirers with his wonderful finesse, and dynamic speaking qualities. Even Mayor Haddad, was impressed by this outstanding black man and that is indeed a mayor accomplishment for Seaside. (smile)

At the Bicentennial Dinner given in Dr. Akar's honor at the Holiday Inn, there were many persons from the other ethnic groups represented, but only a smattering of blacks. It was a disappointment to this. Perhaps the $7.00 dinner tab was a bit toe expensive for some persons, but it was well worth the price; not only did the guests enjoy a delicious dinner grey reisling wine guests enjoy a delicious dinner, grey reisling wine was served alongwith dinner as an appertif. The menu consisted of shrimp salad, rock corhish hen, wild rice, and vegetables a la gourmet.

Following that came the highlight of the evening which was the ambassador's dynamic speech, personal jokes and a film of the dancers from Sierra Leone. The audience was completely enthralled silence prevailed as this wonderful man spoke on democracy and peace among the races. I dug his statement that Blacks should take BlackPower and turn it into GreenPower.

The wonderment of the evening was indeed watching the national dancers of Sierra Leone. One old man of 65 years danced like a y year old boy; it was outstanding! And there were even some of the young agrican maidens dancing topless, (wow) but that's a custom, not a fad. (smile)

The joke of the evening told, which the ambassador was true said he was undressing in his room at Del Monte lodge, and a maid came in and caught him in his birthday suit. She hollered, "Oh My God!!" He soothed her shocked modesty, by saying "my dear please just call me ambassador!" (smile). He also told a joke about an ambassador, who came to Sierra Leone on a goodwill tour. The servants were told to grant this ambassador every wish he asked. He asked, one particular doorman for a number of thins he wished and each time the doorman aswered "it can be arranged". Finally he wanted to know where we could find a lady of the evening and price for her services. The doorman responded by giving the desired and stating the price tag of $500 for an evening of entertainment. The ambassador responded very loudly, "But my lad I was in Brussels last evening and it only cost $50!" The very stately doorman aswered, "But, my lord! that was the common market. Here it is the black market. (smile). The audience roared with Dr. Akar's jokes.

A reception was given at the Holiday Inn for his grace, by the city of Seaside. Mayor Haddad stated that they were brothers at heart because they both were half Arab. The Mayor presented his grace with a key to the city; the ambassador wanted to know if there were any locks in Seaside to fit this key (Heh HeHl) Many dignitaries from around the Peninsula and from bay area, attended this reception.

Barbeque Is Planned

The Shriners and Masons of Al-Kadosh Temple #14 and Ocean View Lodge #144 of Seaside are giving a Pre-Labor Day Barbeque on Saturday, September 5 at 1729 St. Helena Street. The barbeque will begin at noon and continue through the afternoon.

Any proceeds realized from activities such as this goes toward donations at the end of the year for aid to needy families in the Seaside-Monterey area.

The public is invited to attend the barbeque. Delivery of dinners can also be made to the home by calling 394-3893 between the hours of noon and 4 p.m. on the day of the picnic.

Black Arts Exhibited

The Seaside Art Commission has a display of African and Afro-American artifacts sponsored by the Afro-American Bicentennial Committee at the Seaside City Hall. This exhibit was organized by Mrs. E.J. Montgomery, Black Art Consultant at the Oakland Museum.

The private collections represented are those of Mills College Art Gallery, the San Francisco State Anthropology Museum, Miss Elsie Alexander of San Jose and Mrs. E. J. Montgomery.

The display is varied and includes clothing, baskets, sculpture, musical instruments and other implements used in the home, for farming or defense. The tribes and districts in Africa represented are equally varied: Acholi of Uganda, Bantu of East Africa, Benin, Hausa, Oyo and Yoruba of Nigeria, Wolof of Gambia and Zulu of South Africa, and Mende from Sierra Leone.

Music is used in Africa to express a gamut of moods as well as a means of communication. Some of the musical instruments shown have sent messages to those who were away from their village working or relayed signals many miles. Besides percussion instruments there is a zither made of wood lashed with grass twine, and a thumb piano.

The public is cordially invited to see this exhibit and the paintings of five local black artists Monday through Friday from 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Films For Festival Announced

Some 58 films have been selected for showing during the Third Annual Monterey Independent Film Makers Festival Wednesday through Saturday (August 26-29), in the Monterey Peninsula College Theater, according to festival coordinator Chase Weaver.

The films were chosen by a committee whose members viewed over 160 films submitted from throughout the United States, Canada and even England.

The four-day festival will feature a two-hour program at 8 each evening, plus an additional afternoon program at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, August 29. The films selected by a panel of judges for prizes will be reshown at an awards program Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Sunset Center Auditorium, Carmel. Children will be admitted to the Saturday afternoon program only.

Tickets are available at MPC's community services office and may be purchased at the door each evening.

Among the films to be shown are: "Natural Habitat" by Ralph Arlyck of Suffern, New York, who won the first prize for his film, "Sean," at last year's festival; "The Golden Positions," a study of the human body "from Adam and Eve to today" by one of the pioneer American independent film-makers, James Broughton of Mill Valley; "David Harris," a documentary about one of the best-known draft resistance leaders, by Neil Reichline (Los Angeles); "Everybody And A Chicken," a pixillation (anamation of live animals) tour-de-force by Frank Gardner (New Haven, Conn.), another prize winner from last year; "Some Of My Best Friends Are Bottomless Dancers," a documentary about a man who teaches strip and belly dancing, by Barry Pollack (Palo Alto); "Putting The Babies Back (II)" by Neil White (Los Angeles), who won last year's "outrage" award; "I Am Joaquin," produced by El Teatro Campesino of Fresno, a harsh history about the oppression of Chicanos and their ancestors; "Street Of The Sardine," Eva Lothar's evocation of the "Cannery Row of old"; "Variations On A Cellophane Wrapper," an intense, experimental visual and sound elaboration of a single scene by David Rimmer (Vancouver, B.C.); "Black Pudding," a black comedy animation film, produced by Nancy Edell at the University of Bristol, England; and many more.

Who Cares

by Mel Vercoe

The Nuremberg trials are almost forgotten, but their hypocrisy will live forever.

Before World War II a war crime was violation of the law and customs of war, as defined by various international conferences. This in itself is a scary thought when one ponders the idea that such a thing as war must have "sportsman" type rules to go by, lest it become unacceptable to society or perhaps end too soon, before suitable profits could be made.

The Nuremberg and Tokyo trials introduced the "international crime" idea, and three general categories were set up.

Crimes against peace: Planning, preparation, initiation or waging generally illegal wars or conspiring to do so.

Regular war crimes: such things as murder, ill-treatment, enslaving, killing of hostages, plunder of property and wanton destruction.

Crimes against humanity: murders committed against a civilian population and persecutions on plitical, racial or religious grounds in connection with other war crimes.

"Major" war criminal were tried by the international tribunals; "petty" criminals were tried by local courts.

At Nurembergin 1945-6

At Nurembergin 1945-6, four countries, the United States, Britain, Russia and France, tried 22 major war criminals and six German groups, including the Gestapo, the former Reich cabinet and high command and general staff.

The latter three were acquitted. Nineteen of the accused criminals were convicted; some were executed.

As a deterrent to future wars or "unsportsmanlike" conduct of wars, the Nurembert and Tokyo trials were a complete flop. The nuremberg trial, for example, very carefully avoided convicting men and organizations deeply tied in with financial, industrial, diplomatic and propaganda services.

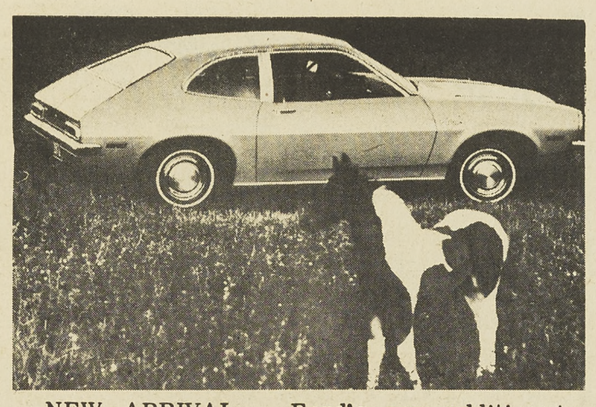
The butchers were tried, but not the builders and the owner of the butcher shop, so the real deterrent value was lost, and the whole concept of the trials became shrouded in the suspicion that war must not really be made too unacceptable for society to endure or risk.

And the hypocrisy smelled to high heaven. Atrocities were committed by both sides, yet only the losers of the war were brought to trial. The planners of the completely unnecessary and senseless bombings of Nagasaki and Dresden were given medals, not tried for atrocities and, even today, a critic of the Vietnam war could go down a list of war crimes as categorized at Nuremberg and show, point by point, that our own America would be hard put to defend itself and its leaders and its epople if by some chance we should lose the war and have to face an international tribunal.

A prime example of hypocrisy that historians will enjoy studying is the fact that such acts as were committed at My Lai are being tried by the U.S. Army, which in one case meted out a six month sentence for deliberate murder and torture. This would compare with having the Gestapo try itself for mistreating the Jews.

LOVING HANDS

Dr. James L. Naviaux, head of the National Wildlife Health Foundation, in his spare time, and with the aid of neighborhood children in Pleasant Hill, Calif., takes in and cures animals with problems and keep them in his own back yard until they are well.



NEW ARRIVAL - Ford's new addition to small car market, Pinto, is shown with its namesake. Ford dealers will introduce new auto to public on September 11.

Job Corps

Job Corps is for young people of all races between ages of 16 and 22 years old. A young man may spend as long as two years in Job Corps, but he can complete his training in less than one year. He will receive specialized training in such fields as automotive mechanics, salesmanship, heavy equipment operations and cooking in either a large men's center or a smalll civilian conservation center. Capable teachers will prepare him to fin and hold a good mob.

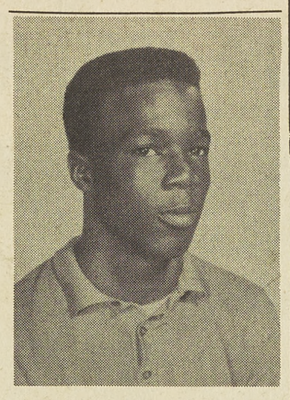
Job Corps will take care of a young man. He will be supersived by a trained staff. His living quarters will be comfortable. He will have his own bed and locker in a dormitory. He can eat as much as he wants. He will be free to play sports, watch TV, go to the movies, and dances. He may attend religious services of his choice.

But he has to obey the rules and regulations. He has to go to bed and get up at a regular time. He has to maintain his living quarters. He has to have permission to leave the center.

conservation center, about half of his time will be spent working. He will learn how to use tools and equipment as he works. He will be taught vocational skills in both large and small centers. He will also have classes in reading, arithmetic and other subjects.

If a young man wants this opportunity, he will obey the rules and do his best. If he does not, Job Corps may have to send him home.

A trainee receives an adequate living allowance, plus an incentive allowance each month. When he leaves, he may also receive money for each month he served the Job Corps, if he completes his training and stays long enough to qualify.



RETURNS – Michael Pruitt just came home from Job Corps Center at Fort Simcoe, where he became apprentice carpenter. He also completed education program in reading and math at center.

Job Info Center Opens

The State Department of Human Resource Development has announced the establishment of a Job Information Center at its office located at 480 Webster Street in Monterey.

In the future, current job openings from local employer will be prominently displayed on a board in the office lobby for easy examination by job-ready applicants, who may select from one or more openings matching their qualifications, undergo an appraisal interview and be referred to compatible jobs without delay.

According to James Pullen, Manager of the DHRD Employment Service in Monterey, installation of the center is expected to benefit employers by exposing their job openings to an increased number of qualified applicants. At the same time, Pullen said, use of the Job Information Center by employers will expand employment opportunities for the unemployed or underemployed job-ready worker.

Employers who wish to obtain maximum exposure of their current job openings are urged to call Job Information Center, Telephone 373-0143, Extensions 21 or 23.

Gendron Completes Training

Cadet Blake P. Gendron, 19, a 1968 graduate of Seaside High School, recently completed a month of Army orientation training at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Cadet Gendron, who is a student at the United States Military Academy, West Point, New York, served as a junior officer with the 37th Field Artillery while assigned at Ft. Lewis.

The program is designed to provide the cadets with practical experience in platton and company duties.

Compensation Increase Announced

An increase in monthly compensation checks for eligible veterans has now been announced by Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

President Nixon has signed into law the increase authorized by Congress.

The new rates will raise VA compensation from eight to twelve percent retroactive to July 1.

Veterans are urged not to write or call the VA regarding this increase as it will come automatically and VA officials are now working to set up veterans records.

VA officials explain that the retroactive increase at the new rate will be received by veterans in the check for September 1970 that reaches the veteran about October 1.

Veterans can plan on the new rate and retroactive increase in the October 1 check. Contact with the VA in this matter will only serve to delay the processing of each individual veteran's file.

Just one thing has kept the Audi from being the most talked-about car of the year.

It's only been around a few months.

If you are buying a car between $3000 and $4000, please test drive the Audi. It turns like a racing car, rides like a limousine and gives up to 26 miles to a gallon of gas.

Church Bell Dedicated

An old mission bell cast in 1909 was dedicated as the church bell of Faith Lutheran Church, Seaside, Sunday, August 16. The rite of dedication took place at the beginning of the 10:30 A.M. Worship Service.

The bell, which is mounted in the front of the church near the church sign, has been the property of Faith since 1964. While it has hung there since the dedication of the church, it has been inoperative lacking a clapper and becoming progressively rustier each year.

The origin of the bell is somewhat a mystery. The inscription, "El Camino Real 1769- 1909" is found on the bell. It is speculated that the bell was cast as a highway bell marking the route Fr. Junipero Serra took in establishing the California missions. Several such bells are still found along Highway 101.

The bell was renovated under the direction of Herman Dean, a member of the congregation. Several inmates at the Soledad Correctional Facility, where Mr. Dean is employed, worked on refurbishing it.

To Get Rid Of Barnacles

An interesting form of marine life is a small shellfish called a barnacle. When thousands of barnacles attach themselves to a ship's hull, they add weight to the vessel and reduce its speed.

Formerly, to clear the hull of barnacles it was scraped clean by arduous manual labor. When it was discovered that barnacles die in fresh water and fall off, it was found possible to remove the incrustation by submerging the ship's hull for a time in fresh water.

How does one get rid of the barnacles of undesirable habits of thought and conduct that seem to have become fixed in one's experience and to have defied all efforts to dislodge them? Christian Science shows that as one lifts his thoughts above the level of human belief in the power of evil into the spiritual consciousness of good, wrong habits fall away.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," "The purification of sense and self is a proof of progress."

A businessman had received many healings and blessings in Christian Science and wished to give up a long continued habit of smoking. Much prayerful work failed to bring freedom from the habit. But one morning, as gratitude to God and the wish to serve Him better welled up in his heart, he saw that giving up smoking would be a very little thing to do for spiritual progress. This broke the mesmerism of pleasure in smoking and he never smoked again.

No matter how long the barnacles of sin or disease may have clung to an individual, he can be healed as "purification of sense and self" loosens their hold in his thought. And another barnacle drops off!

MPC Has Opening

An opening for an Audio-Visual Clerk I is available at Monterey Peninsula College. Applications are being taken now by Mrs. Judy Pattengale in the MPC business office, Building T-3 on campus. The job starts September 10.

The equivalent to high school graduation and one year of experience in supervision, office work and autiovisual equipment operation are required, though other education or qualifying experience may be substituted. Also desired is the ability to type accurately at 40 words per minute.

Duties include ordering, scheduling, cataloguing, inventorying, setting up and operating audio-visual equipment--including VTR--and materials; assisting in training and supervising student assistants and typing purchase requisitions, reports and letters.

Salary is $493-$592 per month. Also provided are an annual two-week vacation plus such fringe benefits as sick leave and life, income protection, health and dental insurance.

Bishop Clinch To Celebrate Mass In SF

New Division To Promote Trade Growth

all countries of the world, this is a natural move on our part to enchance the flow into international markets."

Conscious of the U.S. balance of payments and the importance of trade surplus, the international banker said the activity expects to contribute to the increase of California exports.

The new business development group will work closely with the bank's 12 California regional administration offices, the National Division, and the San Francisco and Los Angeles international banking branches which handle the largest volumne of export and import financing and services for the California market.

Curran, as head of the activity, also will be chairman of a new International Business Development Committee for California.

Bicentennial To Feature Mexican Fiesta

A Mexican Fiesta will be held Sunday, September 6 as part of the Old Monterey Bicentennial Celebration.

This Fiesta Mexicana is under the auspices of five Monterey Peninsula sponsoring organizations. These are the Mexican-American Political Association (MAPA), Mexican Latin Association (LATINA), Guadalupana, SANO, and Comite por Fiesta Patrias Mexicanas.

Chairmen of the festival are Rosemarie Ansel and Mary Dixon, who are also Parade of Nations Chairmen.

The festivities begin at 11 a.m. Sunday morning with a Mariachi Folk Mass at San Carlos Cathedral in Monterey. Father Amancio Rodriquez of San Juan Bautista will officiate at the mass, which will feature the Mariachi Band of San Jose.

At 12:30 there will be a procession of Mexicans in costume, accompanied by the Mariachi Band, to the Custom House Plaza. Upon arrival at the plaza, the Mexican flag will be raised by a colorguard of Mexican Soldiers to officially open the fiesta.

From 1 until 6 p.m., booths will be selling a variety of Mexican delicacies. Throughout this period there will be much entertainment and Mexican pottery will be for sale.

At 8:30 p.m. (on Saturday as well as Sunday) the Ballet Folklorico of Mexico will make its first Monterey appearance at the fairgrounds.

Tickets for this highly-acclaimed show may be purchased at Old Bicentennial Headquarters, 539 Hartnell Street, Monterey; ABC Music Store; Abinante Music Store; Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce; Gadsby's in Salinas; Casita on Fisherman's Wharf or by writing Ballet Folklorico, P.O. Box 604, Monterey.

New Road To Be Built

A new alignment for 1.1 miles of the Castroville-Watsonville Road (Route 183) immediately west of Salinas, Monterey County, has been adopted by the California Highway Commission.

The relocated section will extend from 0.1-mile west of Clark Street at the west city limit to 0.6-mile west of Boronda Road.

Commissioner Vernon J. Cristina of San Jose said the limited space between the Southern Pacific Railroad's tracks and Calvary Cemetery does not permit widening the existing highway to adequate standards and constructing a left-turn storage lane at Boronda Road.

Plans of the California Division of Highways call for constructing a two-lane road with eight-foot paved shoulders south of the cemetery and extending Boronda Road southerly to the relocated highway.

The project is an interim measure pending construction of the Route 183 Freeway sometime after the 1978-79 fiscal year. The freeway routing will be approximately a mile and a quarter northerly of the existing highway at Boronda Road.

CLASSIC GAME

The first All-Star Game was played at Chicago's Comiskey Park, July 6, 1933. Fittingly, Babe Ruth was the hero. Then 38 years old, Babe clouted a third inning, two-run homer that made the difference as the American League won, 4-2. He also turned in the game's top defensive play. Connie Mack and John McGraw were the opposing managers.

THE PHONE BOOTH

It's getting harder all the time to find an isolated hide-away, but now you can still get away from it all, yet keep in touch with the rest of the world. Last year the Bell System added a dozen new places to its overseas communications network including the Admiralty, Gilbert and Chatham Islands in the South Pacific.

In 1927, the year Lindbergh flew solo across the Atlantic, overseas communications consisted of a single radio-telephone circuit between New York City and London. Today you can reach 97% of the world's telephones in more than 200 countries and territories.

Registration for the November 3 general election closes September 10. If you'll be 21 years old by election day or are new in the community, you must register to be eligible to vote.

A new law makes it unnecessary for voters who've moved within a county to re-register. Such voters can now notify the County Clerk or Registrar of Voters by mail of their change of address and he will provide the necessary forms to be filled out. (Notices must be postmarked no later than September 10.) You'll also be able to get these forms at our Business Office at 404 Franklin Street in Monterey where we will again be providing voter registration facilities for your convenience.

United Giving reminds you: Invest in people and we all benefit. Help those who need it most by giving your fair share the United Way.

ORDINANCE NO. 370
ANIMAL CONTROL ORDINANCE
THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SEASIDE does ordain as follows: The Municipal Code of the City of Seaside is amended by changing and adding certain sections as follows:

8-801 (d) is amended to read as follows:

"(d) The City Clerk shall not issue a license to any person for any dog until such person has submitted a certificate of vaccination approved by the Chief Animal Control Officer showing that the dog has been vaccinated in accordance with the provisions of this action."

8-803 (a) is amended as follows:

Change "$3.00" to read "$5.00"

Change "$1.00" to read "$1.50"

8-809 is amended by changing the first sentence to read as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person owning or having charge, care or control of any dog, whether licensed and vaccinated or not, to suffer or permit any such dog to run at large on any public street, road, alley, school yard, park, square, or place, or on any vacant or unenclosed lots or land within the corporate limits of the City."

8-807 (a) is amended to read as follows:

"(a) fees and charges shall be imposed as follows:

(1) for each licensed dog wearing a current license tag an impound fee of Five Dollars ($5.00) and for each dog not wearing a current license tag an impound fee of Ten Dollars ($10.00). In addition thereto, a charge of One Dollar ($1.00) per day for keeping and feeding each dog or cat impounded.

(2) for each dog quarantined at the Animal Shelter a charge of Two Dollars ($2.00) per day for keeping and feeding such dog.

(3) For impounding of stray cattle, horses, or other domestic animals other than dogs or cats, an impound fee of Five Dollars ($5.00) per animal, and in addition thereto a charge equivalent to the costs incurred by the County of Monterey for any special transportation required for moving said animals and for feeding them while impounded.

(4) for each vaccination of a dog performed by a veterinarian at the Animal Shelter a fee of Five Dollars ($5.00), and Two Dollars ($2.00) for each vaccination performed at special reduced-fee clinics.

(5) for each female cat or dog placed for adoption by the Animal Shelter an additional refundable fee of Twenty Dollars ($20.00) for the purpose of contributing to the unsexing of said female cat or dog, said fee shall be refunded if said cat or dog is returned and surrendered to the shelter within 30 days, and provided further that the person paying said Twenty Dollars ($20.00) shall be given a certificate, which when endorsed by a licensed doctor of veterinary medicine showing unsexing of said cat or dog within six months of the date of certificate, shall entitle said veterinarian, upon presentation of said certificate so endorsed to payment of Twenty Dollars ($20.00) by the County of Monterey.

(6) A basic adoption fee of Three Dollars ($3.00) for each cat or dog, which shall be in addition to any other charge or fee."

Whenever it is shown that any dog or other animal has bitten any person, or whenever any dog or other animal has shown symptoms of rabies, or acts in such manner as to lead the Monterey County Director of Public Health to believe that such might have rabies, the owner or person having possession of such dog or other animal shall, upon order of the Director of Public Health, quarantine it and keep it tied up or confined for a period of ten days, and shall allow the Director of Public Health, or his representative, to make an inspection or examination thereof at any time during such period, or in lieu of said confinement said owner or person having possession of such dog or other animal may have the same confined in an establishment controlled and supervised by a licensed veterinarian for a period of not less than five days, after which said dog or other animal may be released from said veterinary establishment upon the certification of the veterinarian controlling or supervising said establishment that said dog or other animal displays no symptons whatsoever, and upon vaccination and licensing if subject to vaccination and licensing under the provisions of this ordinance.

Films To Be Shown

Two films, "The Story of a Birth" and "Natural Childbirth," will be shown ree of charge at the Monterey Public Library on Friday, September 4 at 8 p.m.

"The Story of a Birth" features Dr. John S. Miller and shows a couple preparing themselves for the birth of their child. The second film, "Natural Childbirth," is by Dr. Robert Bradley, the author of "Husband Coached Childbirth." It shows an actual delivery as well as preparation for childbirth.

The film showing is presented by the Childbirth Education League and following the films a discussion and answer session will be led by Mrs. Joan Coppens, a CEL certified instructor.

The Childbirth Education League sponsors prenatal classes stressing "prepared childbirth." A fee is charged for the eight week course and advanced registration is necessary during the fourth or fifth month of pregnancy.

Qeustions about the films or prenatal classes can be directed to Mrs. Alan McMasters at 375-1309.

Blacks Caucused At Black Studies Meet

Following the Ford Foundation's recent black studies conference in Aspen, Colorado, a foundation official announced that there was unaninous agreement that no one would talk to the press ultil a special committee prepared a report on the conference and the report is circulated among all participants.

One participant estimated that the report would be completed "about October."

It appears that some conflict developed between the black and white universities over funds to support black students programs.

The blacks seemed concerned that black universities might fare porly in competition with white schools.

Another participant said an assumption that black studies are the academic arm of a black separatist movement had somehow permeated the meeting. He said he could not tell whether this opinion was shared by Ford Foundation officials.

Dr. Vincent Harding, director of the Institute of the Black World in Atlanta, had complained during the conference that the gathering should be addressed by younger black educators, ra-younger black educators, rather than the ones selected by the foundation as speakers.

Dr. Harding wrote all black participants and asked them to take part in a black caucus the night before the main conference began.

Ford Foundation representative John Scanlon described the conference as "very fruitful and informative."

To Give Is More Devine

Carmel's city administrator has an answer for city officials irritated at receiving time-consuming questionnaires from various government agencies. In return he sends them a questionnaire of his own.

Hugh Bayless says that if they answer his form, he will fill out and return theirs. To date he has not received any replies.

Among Bayless' questions are:

"Have you been authorized by higher authority to make this request?"

"What law requires our response to your request?"

"Are there any United States Supreme Court decisions to support this law?"

"Why do you need this information?"

Bayless has been city administrator of Carmel for seven year. He has a four member staff, but says he has to fill out most of the questionnaires himself because he can readily fill in the answers.

(Low Cost Lease Purchase Plan Available)

If you just bought this year's VW sedan, congratulations.

Next year nobody will know you're not driving next year's VW sedan.

Because next year's beetle will look like this year's beetle. (What else?) And every other beetle we've ever made.

So it will be just as hard to tell a 20-year-old VW from a brand new VW.

Buying a car that doesn't go out of style has still another benefit: you don't take a beating when you sell it.

A VW depreciates very slowly.

But even though next year's Volkswagen won't be different, it will be different.

We've made some nice improvements. As usual. (Over 2200 since 1949.)

So in next year's VW you can look forward to a new ———— and a bigger ————and a different—

Well, you wouldn't want us to give away all our little secrets, would you?

What kind of sneaky preview would that be?
